

Transformer bushing insulators are applied as a structure, carrying on conductor through a partition such as transformer tank and insulating it, incorporating the means of attached flange to the partition for medium voltage level.

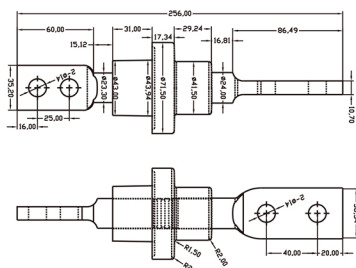

Other Transformer bushing custom-made insulators can be supplied upon customer's request and specifications.

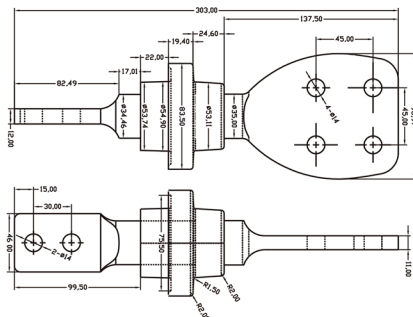

400A

1000A

600A

1600A